THE DEMOCRATIC MUDDLE.

DISCUSSED INFORMALLY BY MESSRS. HANNA, CLAYTON AND SCOTT.

A CHANCE MEETING IN THE FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL - POPOCRATIC MISREPRESENTA-

TIONS AS TO OHIO EXPOSED BY COLONEL CONGER-PROGRESS

IN VIRGINIA.

Several members of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee met at the Fifth Hotel yesterday forenoon. Mr. Hanna found General Clayton, Mr. Scott and others in the consultation. The subject of Mr. Thacher's withdrawal and the plight of the Democracy were to When Mr. Hanna was asked what he thought of the condition of the New-York Democracy, he Bless me! I have enough work without meddling with anybody else. I am inclined to think it is a pretty bad mix up-they are demoralized, and lack organization everywhere. This does not seem to be such of a divergence from the general order of hings over the country.

I have not had time to look the matter up thorglance it seems like a pretty bad muddle and imost hopeless—I know we would consider it a lopeless condition of affairs if it was within our It seems that the old lines of the Democracy are badly split." Mr Scott, who has been in charge mainly of the campaign in the South, remarked: "New-York is uch an important State that I supposed the greatest fort would be made here by the Democrats to hold the organization intact. I see, however, that the tion in the State has succumbed to the same untry, and it seems a bad muddle. We are gaining butts, and our strongest belo is coming from the workingmen. They begin to see the vital issues the campaign in which they are concerned. It has ome clear to them that the manufacturer, if he the prices for his goods, can hold them, or prices for his goods, can do likewise; the italist, if his money will not earn a proper interhe? If he does not get the price for a day's work, he cannot husband that day. He cannot lay it aside and use it some other time. It is gone forever. It is fair day's pay for a fair day's work. The working men are coming around all right, and our strongest upport lies right with the men that Bryan is trying

He joined Mr. Hanna and other members of the comnittee, and chatted with them about the situation in referring to the present campaign. ness and will be none until after the election This gives the people a greater opportunity to think They are doing the first now, and they will do the second in November. I see that a Bryan c fier is writing East to the Bryan organ here, that McKinley will not carry Ohio. He says that men for McKinley and parading for McKinley; but that once the door of the ballot booth closes on them they are then 'free men' and will vote for Bryan. That There has been some little trouble in the Cleveland district owing to labor troubles, and whereever there are labor troubles, there the demagogues get in their work; but it will not amount to a great deal. I think I can safely predict that Ohio will give $2,000 majority for McKlinley, and I would not be surprised at twice that majority.

"In Indiana and Illinois the people have a trick of putting the pictures of their favorite candidate in the store window, or the window of the house, or of posting it somewhere around. You will find that there are ten McKlinley pictures for one of Bryan. The Bryan men say that the laborers are with them. Why, the very people that are leading the fight for McKlinley in the West are the laboring men. It is the workingmen that are in the van and the employers simply follow. Everything is boiling in the West. With business dead, the people have nothing to think of save politics, and they intend to settle this question once and for all. The idea is not simply to make the State sure, but to give as tremendous a in Canton two weeks ago, and the enthusiasm that was manifested. From what I can learn from the best sources of information, all of the Middle Western States are going Republican. We shall carry Washington, Oregon and California, Maryland, Kentucky and Delaware, with a fighting chance in Tennessee and Missouri. The victory will be so complete and convincing that no one will ever dare to reopen the question."

SITUATION IN VIRGINIA.

Judge Edmund Weddill, jr., of Richmond, a member of the Campaign Committee of Virginia, consulted with Mr. Scott yesterday as to the campaign suited with Mr. Scott yesterday as to the campaign in that State. The Campaign Committee of Vir-ginia is made up of eight members, four from each Republican faction, Mr. Scott having the deciding yote as a sort of referee. He said yesterday that he Republican faction, Mr. Scott having the deciding vote as a sort of referee. He said yesterday that he had never cast a vote since the campaign opened, and that one would not believe there ever had been a factional quarrel in the State.

"We have a better organization in Virginia to-day," said Judge Waddill, "than we have ever had. The money question is not so much of an issue in the State, perhaps, as the tariff. We have now a harmonious, energetic and aggressive Campaign Committee which is backed up by a strong organization, we are trying to carry the State for McKinley and think that we shall succeed. The gold standard Democratic ticket will draw a great many voice for McKinley, it will help a great deal. Palmer will probably get 30,300 votes in the State.

"Others have placed it higher than that," interjected Mr. Scott.

"Well, you see," continued the Judge, "I am counting the gold standard Democratic ticket upon that issue only. There are many thousand workingmen in the State who are Democratis insues; but in a Presidential campaign, owing to the tariff, vote for the Republican nominee. With the vote of Bryan weakened by the thousands of votes that will go to Palmer, and the Republican vote strengthened by the vote of many Democratics to think the surest way to wipe Bryanism out is to vote for McKinley, we hope to pold a vote that will elect the Republican electoral ticket."

GERMAN REPUBLICANS AT WORK.

AN ADDRESS TO VOTERS TO BE ISSUED SOON PREPARING FOR A MASS-MEETING.

The German Republicans of this city, acting with the National Committee, have made their plans for carrying on a vigorous, thorough and ustastic campaign for McKinley, Hobart and sound money. Before adjournment the address to German-American voters was agreed upon, and will be issued in a few days. Charles E. Hauselt treasurer, and the Committee on Finance were authorized to take steps at once to get subscriptions for campaign purposes. Prof. H. W. Diederich, secretary of the Bureau of Foreign Literature of the Republican National Committee, thereupon suggested that a committee be appointed to co-operate with the regular German Central Republican County Committee for the purpose of getting up a successful mass-meeting. He expressed ful tonndence that such harmonicus co-operation would bring about gratifying results.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The lack of interest in the campaign manifested Democrats was remarkable. HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK.

Baptist Church, West Fifty-seventh-st., last evening spoke on "God's Voice and the Political and Religious Events of Last Week."

There were three notable things that occurred last week on which I wish to speak. The first is the characteristics of the flat money candidate as expressed by himself. He is a believed in fatalism, and hugs the Oriential idea "Kismet." He seems to think he is a man of destiny. That is a dangerous conception. Such a man as President might do incalculable harm. He would set aside the advice of friends and follow his own insune deligions. He would be bitter to foes and hostile to friends. He would be bitter to foes and hostile to friends. He would be went was the meeting at Madson Square Garden last Tuesday might, in favor of sound money. These men put country above everything else. They were opposed to array class against class. In this free country of ours there are no classes. It was a most instructive sight to see those soldiers of the blue and of the gray standing under the flag that floats over North and South alike.

A third event was the suggestion at the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in the meeting of the fathers.

see those solders of the blue and of the gray said alike.

A third event was the suggestion at the meeting of ministers at Chicago, that a day in October be set aside for fasting, and prayer to invoke the aid of God to preserve this country from Anarchy and disintegration. The question is as much moral as political. The American people should bury out of sight the abominable unrighteous and anarchistic Chicago platform. I take this opportunity to invite all to come to this church next Friday evening to invoke the aid of God. We will have prayer and songs for our country's cause.

Another event I wish to speak about is the revival of the use of dynamite by the enemies of society in the destruction of life and property. It was recently used at Leadwille. Such use was the direct outcome of the Chicago platform. This country can never submit to mob rule. We have recently seen also the international dynamite outbreaks. The work of the Irish dynamite plat is somewhat obscure. Perhaps these garrulous barroom frequenters had better be in an insan asylum than be engaged in plots against the Queen and the Czar. We do not purpose that men who come to these shores with dynamite in one hand and the Amerchist flag in the other shall get a landing, and we shall stop the mat Quarantine. Neither do we purpose that the American flag shall protect the dynamiters who go to other countries from here to commit wholesale murder in the name of liberty.

CLASS ANIMOSITIES DEPRECATED. "A True Leader of the People" was the subject of ave. last night. In the course of his address he said:

Let us try to get clearly in mind what a true leader of the people should be. I do not wish to be at all personal, yet the times call for great plainness of utterance on the part of the pulpit, and as Glod gives me strength I intend to be true to my duty. Inexitably we are thinking of types of men who advance themselves, or are advanced, to guide us in National affairs. Which type shall we choose. Let us turn our eyes backward and select one of the great characters of history. Certain striking shadows ile across the generation of men, and we call them Abraham. Zoroaster, Menu, Meses Upon the last named let us fix our gaze. Why does he loom so high against the horizon of the past? Because the light of divine illumination was behind him. The essential feature of his character is grandeur. He is associated with the flowing Nile and granite peaks, lonely mountains, smolten rocks, raging seas, eagle flights, and Shai. Nebo and Bethpeor.

His life extended over one hundred and twenty years, divided into periods of just forty years each. The first period was education—he passed it in the polace of Pharanoh. The second period was meditaive—he passed it on the mountains of Midlan. The third period was active—he passed it in the deserts of Sinai, leading the people out of bondage. We learn from his life that, as a rule, a true leader of the people is a man of mature life. He was eighty years old when he was invested with office. There have been exceptions, but the rule is as stated. Men who have thought and suffered, who have warred with themselves and with the enemies of their country, as Moses did, are they who are rightly called to high positions of leader-ship. We can trust them, because they can trust themselves. Their characters and policies are well founded. The framers of our Constitution had this in mind when they established an age for Presidential candidates, which presumably would keep inexperienced men out of the White House. Moses showed himself a unifier of the people. He did not array the masses against the classes. No such evil project ever crossed his mind. The false and arbitrary divisions of men of which we hear so much just now, did not exist to him. Korah, Diahan and Abihram were the disturbers of that day, and they were utterly destroyed. Many of his most splendid acts of service—at Dophkah, at Sinal, at Kadish—were in the line of healing dissections and bringing in a larger brotherhood and a truer peace. There is no more criminal proceeding in this country, or any other country, than the anarchistic arraying of members of society against each other in divisions that do not exist. He preached righteousness. His laws are the foundation of eighty years in human affairs. The foundation of eighty years in human affairs. The foundation of eighty wears in human affairs. The foundation of his system was absolute honesty in trade, commerce and money. When he died on Neho he could look back over his long career as a leader and truthfully say that he had always opposed those who would make the balances faulty, who could cheat and override their neighbors, who would shun their just obligations to God or man. Would that our leaders might take pattern from him who esteemed the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt.

The head turned to the west. Mr. Paul shifted his weight to hold the craft for the water. He was not quick enough. Already the Albatross dropped rapidly, beat into a clump of trees, and fell. The eraft rested upon its left side with the left wing shattered, a number of ribs smashed and other damage.

Mr. Paul was not thrown off his feet, owing to the side rails, which he clutched with desperate energy, but he sustained a bad cut over his left eye and several bruises. The inventor says the experiment was unsuccessful because of the quartering northeast wind, and that but for this he would have made a flight to astonish the world.
